PHOTOGRAPHIC SAFARI

A PHOTOGRAPHIC SAFARI SET IN ONE OF
SOUTH AFRICA'S MOST PREMIER RESERVES

HOSTED BY SAMUEL COX

INTRODUCTION

With our photographic safaris, we at RAW Photographic insist on delivering nothing but the best experience possible for our guests. Not only do we want to ensure a fun, educational and meaningful wildlife experience it's also important that we do so in a way that's driven by authenticity and ethics.

A lot of research and effort goes into designing and building our products and we only partner with those who mirror our ambition in delivering great experiences whilst also remaining respectful to the land, wildlife and cultures we're visiting.

Whilst still working in some of Africa's most desired and premier hot-spots for wildlife our aim is to keep our products as affordable as possible whilst not skimping on the value. All our trips are as inclusive as possible and are hosted by one of our professional photographers for bespoke photographic tuition and to ensure everything sails smoothly - making sure that you have nothing to worry about other than making sure your batteries are charged and memory cards are plenty!

We want nothing more than for our guests to feel confident and at ease with every moment of their experience with us - from the early stages of booking to the final airport goodbyes, so we implement an open door policy where we welcome and promote any and all questions so please don't hesitate to get in touch with us regarding anything.

ABOUT SABI SAND

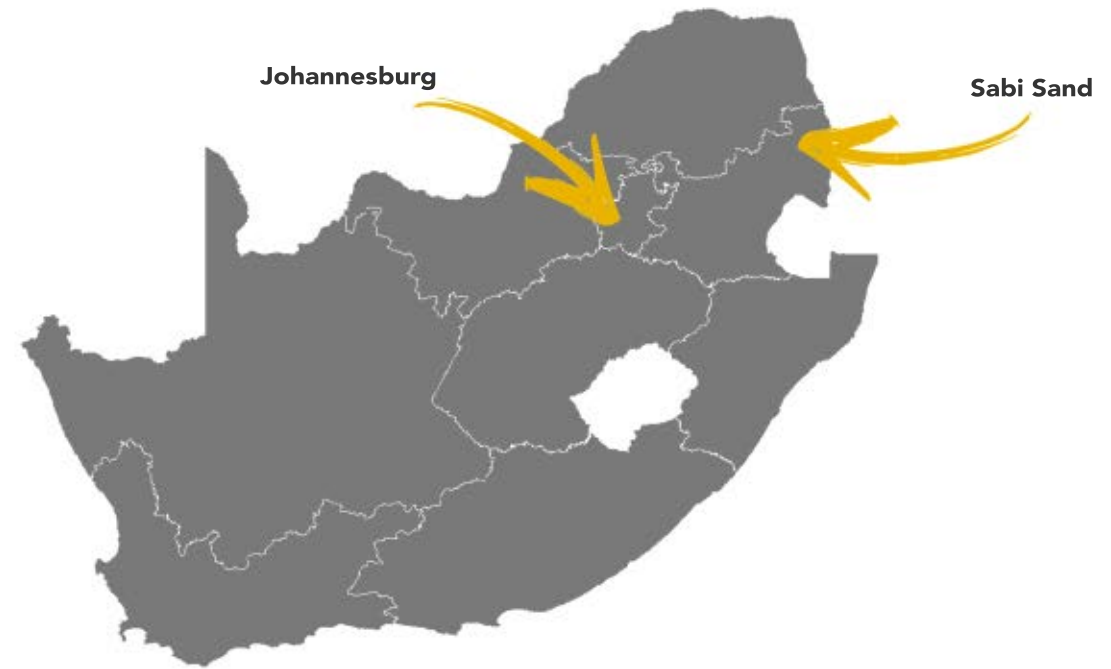

Sabi Sands is often lauded as the most prestigious private reserve in South Africa, perhaps due to the reserve's longstanding conservation efforts. The original reserve was proclaimed back in 1898 and by 1949 the landowners had merged their properties (mostly ex-agricultural land) into what is now the Sabi Sands Game Reserve.

The huge 650km² private reserve shares unfenced borders on the western boundaries of the Kruger National Park allowing animals to roam freely between the reserves. Thanks to the re-purposing of boreholes previously used for the farms into waterholes for wildlife, Sabi Sands can offer a year round water source not affected by seasonal changes. This means you're never far away from spotting the Big Five and the hundreds of other species that make up the greater Kruger population at any time of the year.

The Sabi Sands is renowned for the Big Five (Lion, Leopard, Elephant, Buffalo and Rhino). In fact it was in the Sabi Sands where the hunting concept that is the Big Five was rekindled as a photo safari term. So successful was this term marketed in the photo safari arena that today it is taken as the apex of wildlife viewing whilst on safari in Africa.

Lions roaming the open plains in their pride and rhinoceros congregating in front of your eyes are a sight to behold, but there's one animal in particular that shares a unique bond with Sabi Sands;

Leopards, the most elusive of the big cats and normally solitary creatures, are much easier to spot in the brushwood than they are in many other leopard reserves. They still favour a big tree, which they use as an observation platform or a resting place, but you can get within two metres of them before they run away. This unique, relaxed reaction is the result of the ban on hunting, which has lasted for over half a century. Several generations of leopards have never heard a gunshot, or had a reason to fear humans, so their passive attitude is a mixture of indifference and comfort.

YOUR HOST

Samuel Cox has been a professional wildlife photographer for over a decade, photographing the flora and fauna of Zambia, Zimbabwe, Eswatini and South Africa - the last being a country he considers as a second home. Sam spent four years living in Africa amidst the wildlife and on the doorstep of the famous Kruger National Park, teaching international guests the specifics of wildlife photography and aiding conservation initiatives.

Over the years he's seen his photography and writing published across various platforms through the likes of National Geographic, BBC Wildlife Magazine, Travel Africa, Wildcard Magazine and Africa Geographic. However, it's in his ability to teach that he finds the most reward, and has had great success in seeing hundreds of photography guests develop their creative and technical skills under his mentoring.

Sam will be with you every step of the way to make sure that you're not only getting an abundance of photographic guidance, but to also ensure that the trip runs as smoothly as possible.

He'll be providing in-the-field photographic guidance as well editing and photo tuition back at the lodge, making sure that you leave with a brand new portfolio of fantastic images.

" I recently spent a week with Sam at Madikwe, and it is no overstatement to say I had one of the best weeks of my life.

As someone with little experience in photography, learning from Sam's expertise was massively helpful. "

PHOTOGRAPHY

Sabi Sands is one of the most sought after locations for photographers and nature enthusiasts looking for the best of the best. Elephants, rhinos and buffalos are common place and never cease to amaze, whilst predators such as lions, wild dog and the iconic leopard are the main reason why Sabi Sands is so popular and highly regarded. Of course, with all these animals and predators sharing the same territories - it's a melting pot of animal interactions and hunting.

Game drives are conducted throughout the year at optimum viewing times when game activity is generally at its peak, i.e. early morning and late afternoon into evening. The morning safari departs at sunrise, and the evening drive leaves late enough in the afternoon for guests to enjoy a bush sunset and the opportunity to view nocturnal animals after dark.

We will be utilising a private 4x4 landcruiser and field guide, meaning we have complete control and maximum flexibility to get the best photographs possible. Our photographic group will comprise a maximum of only 4-6 guests, to ensure maximum space and comfort whilst on game drive as each guest essentially gets an entire row of seats each.

A smaller group also means that more attentive and focused photographic guidance and tuition is possible. This includes in-the-field guidance and support, making sure you not only don't miss a beat, but also discover new creative skills and techniques to elevate your photography. Back at the lodge between drives is the perfect time and location to look at photo cataloging and processing. Open up your laptop and we can look for ways to further improve and streamline your editing skills in Adobe Lightroom and Photoshop.

ACCOMMODATION

Resting comfortably under a canopy of indigenous trees in the southern stretches of the Sabi Sand, sits the inimitable and understated.

Umkumbe Bush Lodge. This luxury tented camp offers all the creature comforts from home, and is the first of its kind in the reserve. The build of the lodge is based on the idea of glamping, but with a luxurious twist.

Umkumbe is a beautifully designed bush lodge that offers accommodation in tented style suites. Each tented suite has its own private deck or verandah and is fully equipped for a comfortable safari retreat.

The stylish and spacious tents are all positioned on private raised wooden decks nestled in nature. King size bed that can be converted to 2 twin beds bathroom with shower. Air conditioning and heating as well as power plugs for electronic equipment is also available in each tent. For a moment you could forget that you're in the heart of the African bush, that is until night falls and you get the pleasure of falling asleep to the sounds of nature.

Breakfast and lunch will be served alfresco at the main lodge on private tables and the evening dinner will be hosted in the boma area around a central roaring fire. (Subject to weather conditions)

All in all, Umkumbe Bush Lodge strikes the perfect balance of making you feel like you're truly living amongst nature whilst also providing the luxury and comforts that help make a safari such a treat.

ITINERARY

DAY 1

The safari starts in Hoedspruit where you will be met at arrivals area outside the small airport taken to a local lodge for the night. This will be the place where you will meet Sam and get to know everybody in your small group. Take the time to relax after your long flight and enjoy a dinner with new friends before getting a good night sleep.

 Breakfast and dinner is included - but drinks are not included.*

DAY 2

After a relaxed start to the day and a hearty breakfast, we will then start the journey to Sabi Sands. The drive is approximately 2.5 - 3 hours and upon arrival you'll be welcomed and have time to settle into the lodge before regrouping for lunch and our first afternoon safari.

The game drive will see us exploring and being introduced to the game reserve, and after a quick drink stop, will take us into the early evening where we'll look for active predators and nocturnal wildlife. We'll get back to camp around 19:00 to enjoy drinks before dinner shared with quality conversation.

DAY 3 - 7

Game drives start early in Africa. We'll head out around sunrise to take advantage of first light and the ensuing morning golden hour. Our focus will be on finding the best photographic subjects and wildlife experiences we can get; from looking for the large herds of elephants, occasional birding and of course, keeping on the lookout for predators. Having a private vehicle means the world is our oyster and we'll decide as a group what's the best focus for each game drive.

We'll get back to camp in the mid to late morning for a delicious breakfast and some time to relax. This is also the perfect time to work with Sam on your photography and editing skills. Alternatively, the rooms are luxurious and cool, the pool is inviting, there's a bar for drinks and don't forget about lunch in the early afternoon - there's certainly a lot of food involved!

Optional activities such as bush walks and spa treatments are also available at additional cost.

Our second daily game drive will see us following up any sightings or information from previous drives - making sure that we stop at sunsets for the iconic sundowners experience. Dinner will follow as usual later in the evening upon return back to the lodge.

DAY 8

We'll head out for our final game drive and have a short breakfast stop along the way before heading back to the lodge to pack up and check out. We aim to arrive back at Hoedspruit airport in time to catch afternoon flights, so it's a good idea to pack the night before to further enjoy your final hours at the lodge.

After arriving back at the airport, we'll say our goodbyes.
